ROLAND PARK COUNTRY SCHOOL

BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

The aim of the Roland Park Country School is to develop the intellectual capacity of the student, to nurture her moral and spiritual growth, and to prepare her to assume the responsibilities of college and community life. To this end it exacts high academic standards, encourages respect for excellent workmanship, and promotes personal standards of integrity and self-discipline, at the same time making each student aware of her responsibilities in group living.

In addition to stressing these values, the school helps the individual to know herself better by providing a friendly atmosphere of simplicity and of mutual trust between teacher and student and by fostering a way of life that combines respect for tradition and independence of thought; tenacity of purpose and a cooperative, resilient spirit.

Thus the school hopes to lay the foundation for fruitful academic achievement, spiritual strength, and effective citizenship.

THE FACULTY OF ROLAND PARK COUNTRY SCHOOL

In Memory Of

Katherine A. Talbot

who for her natural dignity, gracious charm, and inexhaustible enthusiasm will remain forever in the hearts of all who knew her.

"With thee conversing, I forgot all time."

June Adams

JUNE, "DEB" — ENTERED KINDERGARTEN

Home Economics Club Vice-President VIII; Council VIII; Honor Board VI; Class Vice-President V; Badminton Varsity V-VIII.

Any worries? June will comfort you with placating words, make you laugh with her droll comments, and subsequently come up with an answer for your problem. June has industriously and loyally served the Badminton Team for four years. An adroit conversationalist who captures and delights any circle . . . casual and unconventional . . . June.

Helen Elizabeth Cellurale

BETSY — ENTERED VI MAIN

Christian Service Club President VIII; Class Secretary VII, VIII; Honor Board VIII; Play Committee VII, Chairman VIII; Imp Representative VI; Badminton Varsity VII.

This year the Christian Service Club was fortunate to have Betsy as its president, for she has generously given the club her devoted leadership. Although she is gentle and composed, Betsy is always ready to defend her convictions forcefully. With her determination and understanding we know that Betsy will succeed in any field.

"Sweet mercy is nobility's true badge."

"Good to be merie and wise."

Wendy May Cross

WENDY — ENTERED VI MAIN

Head Lunchroom Hostess VIII; Imp Captain VIII; Junior-Senior Banquet Chairman VII; Council VII; Play Committee VI; Glee Club VI-VIII; Semiquavers VI-VIII; Badminton Varsity VIII; Basketball Squad VI, VII.

Indeed it is good to be "merie," as Wendy has so often proven by exuberantly cheering at games, clowning in Friday morning skits, and leading the Imps. But it is also good to be wise, for Wendy's practical wisdom was indispensable in the supervision of the Junior-Senior banquet and in the planning of varsity teas. Her pleasing frivolity and frankness have certainly made Wendy a distinctive personality.

Catherine Mitchell Daley

CASSIE — ENTERED VI MAIN

Business Manager Quid Nunc VIII; Fellowship Representative VI, VII, VIII; Class Vice-President VII; Play Committee VI, Chairman VII, VIII; Glee Club VII, VIII; Lacrosse Squad VI.

Cassie—artistic, efficient, fun-loving, and idealistic. Cassie is the one responsible for all the effective scenery in our plays, the excellent book-keeping on the Quid Nunc, and for much of the warm laughter coming from the Senior Room. She has been our Fellowship Representative for the past three years, and has lent dignity to our class through her friendly courtesy, good judgment, and high ideals. Cassie certainly exemplifies open-mindedness and good sportsmanship.

"Wise to resolve and patient to perform."

"Honor is purchased by the deeds we do."

Helene Marie Fredeking

HELENE, FOXIE — ENTERED IV MAIN

Sports Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Contemporary Club Vice-President VIII; Honor Board VII, VIII; Librarian IV-VIII; Play Committee VII; Lunchroom Hostess VI; Glee Club VIII; Hockey Squad V, VI; Varsity VII, Captain VIII; Basketball Squad V, Varsity VI-VIII; Lacrosse Squad V, Varsity VI, VII.

Delightfully relaxed and always considerate even under the most trying of circumstances, Helene, with her ingenious schemes and subtle humor, has enlivened many a class and Senior Room session. Behind a comforting air of effortlessness, "Foxie's" alertness and hard work have earned for her the coveted white blazer; have given to you the thorough sports' coverage in this book; and have steered R.P.C.S. through the hazards of debating. Helene is undeniably an indispensable member of our class.

Gail Spencer Gardner

GAIL — ENTERED I MAIN

Art Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Art Club Vice-President VIII; Play Committee VI, Chairman VII, VIII; Dance Committee VII, VIII; Junior Dramatic Club President V; Imp Representative VII; Badminton Varsity VI, VII.

Gail—a small blonde with delicate, Dresden-like features and an adept artist sketching chic fashions on her pad during classes. She has a colorful eye for costuming and a capable hand in assisting the Art Club. Gail's mind is original, her opinions her own, and her intriguing personality has captured the heart of many a midshipman.

"The glass of fashion, the mould of form, the observed of all observers."

"Her thoughts and her actions are her own."

Evelyn Brantly Handy

EVE — ENTERED VI MAIN

Literary Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Glee Club Librarian VIII; Debating Team VII; Chairman Fashion Show VII; Quid Nunc Representative VI; Glee Club VI-VIII; Semiquavers VIII; Sports Representative VI; Basketball Squad VI, VII; Lacrosse Squad VI.

With her animation, acumen, and individuality, Eve is captivating. Persuasive and emphatic in expounding her convictions, and interested and accomplished in many fields from diving to sewing, she is easily outstanding in any group. Infectiously happy and capricious, Eve rates number one in conviviality.

Deborah Ridgely Houstle

DEBBIE — ENTERED III MAIN

Class President VI, VIII; Honor Board VII; Class Secretary V; Play Cast VI, VII; Cheerleader VII, Head Cheerleader VIII; Glee Club V-VIII; Semiquavers VIII.

Whether singing wholeheartedly, cheerleading vivaciously, or acting with a dramatic flair, Debbie has been an integral part of life at R.P.C.S. Although red heads are known for their fiery tempers, Debbie always remained unruffled while presiding over our lively class meetings. Through her loyalty to our class and to the school, Debbie has truly been a "pattern to others."

"Be a pattern to others, and then all will go well."

"Where the angels and the devils meet."

Zilla Anne Johnson

ZILLA — ENTERED V MAIN

Dramatic Club President VIII, Vice-President VII; Literary Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Play Committee VI; Play Cast VII; Student Director VIII.

An impish grin, a devilish gleam in her eyes, and we know that Zilla is embarking on another of her riotous escapades. She does more, however, than fight for longer hair, shorter skirts, and a way to her beloved Sherwood. Zilla is a capable and enthusiastic President of the Dramatic Club and an ardent reader. Zilla is and always will be completely carefree, utterly gay, and truly lovable.

Natalie Beall Meeks

NATALIE, NAT — ENTERED VI MAIN

Play Cast VI; Chairman of Bible Readers VIII; Red and White Representative VIII.

Take a small, breezy figure, top it with a head full of good common sense, crown it with a soft, fluffy page boy, wrap it in a crisp Roland Park uniform, and you have Nat. She meets every occasion with efficiency and dependability. Natalie is a conscientious student, gracious hostess, and steadfast member of our senior class.

"And learn the luxury of doing good."

"The gods help them who help themselves."

Betty Sailer Norris

BETS — ENTERED KINDERGARTEN

Athletic Association President VIII; Editor Red and White VII; Photography Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Council VI; Hockey Squad V, Varsity VI-VIII; Basketball Varsity VII; Lacrosse Varsity V-VIII, Captain VII.

"And the poor clerk was so embarrassed when she found out I was eighteen," diminutive Betty chuckles. A skillful athlete and holder of a white blazer, and an efficient organizer for the A.A. and the Red and White, Betty is truly "The Best-All-Round-Senior." Her tact and humor and mature perspective have made her a quiet but effective influence throughout the school. Betty, we admire your accomplishments, respect your opinions, and enjoy your company.

Joan Clarice Panetti

JOANIE — ENTERED VI MAIN

Glee Club and Semiquaver Club President VIII; School Government Vice-President VII; Class Vice-President VIII; Study Hall Committee VIII; Lateness Council VI; Play Committee VI; Glee Club VI-VIII; Semiquavers VI-VIII.

Joanie—our distinguished composer, gifted pianist, and generous and loyal friend. Whether diligently working away on the longest papers, collecting her beloved references to Latin mythology, thrilling us with her beautifully composed songs, or patiently listening to all our trials, she blends sincerity with a spirited determination. We thank you, Joan, for the beauty of your music and the comfort of your sympathy.

"Doing easily what others find difficult is talent; doing what is impossible for talent is genius."

"Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind."

Carol Lee Perrott

CAROL — ENTERED IV MAIN

Play Committee VII, VIII; United Nations Youth Representative VII; Lateness Council VII.

A shy smile . . . short, curly brown hair crowning big blue eyes . . . of service to others as a hardworking "pinkie" at Union Memorial last summer . . . appreciated by the teams for her regular attendance at games . . . for three years a loyal supporter of the Contemporary Club . . . the epitome of composure . . . the perfect balance to our excitable class . . . that's our Carol.

Mary Lee Ritter

MIMI — ENTERED IV MAIN

Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Class President V, VII; Advertising Manager Red and White VII; Debating Team VII; United Nations Youth Representative VI; Hockey Squad V, VI; Basketball Squad V-VII; Lacrosse Squad V, VI.

Mimi, our excellent debater, is often seen talking animatedly with one of her many friends. Always gregarious and contagiously cheerful, she never forgets to smile quickly, wave her arms exuberantly, and make a new friend feel completely at ease. Her high academic abilities and her respected competent leadership are manifested by her constant appearance on the Honor Roll, her class presidencies, and her editorship of the Quid Nunc.

"I have a heart with room for every joy."

"High erected thoughts seated in a heart of courtesy."

Gisèle Andrée Ruche

GIGI — ENTERED VIII MAIN

Honorary Member of Council VIII; Play Cast VIII; Glee Club VIII.

Graceful and thoughtful—
Our ambassadress from Switzerland.
Well informed and tactful—
A true diplomat.
Enthusiastic and talented—
A photographer, musician, and writer.
Serene and charming—
The pride of the Senior Class.

Ellen Ellsworth Rumford

ELLEN — ENTERED III MAIN

School Government President VIII; Athletic Association Secretary-Treasurer VI; Christian Service Club Secretary-Treasurer VII; Lunchroom Hostess V; Tennis Squad V, VII; Badminton Varsity VII.

It does not matter where Ellen is or what she is doing—she is charming. We burst into spontaneous laughter as she recounts an amusing experience, sparkling it with refreshing, distinctive comments. Her cheerful optimism encourages us and her words of sympathy hearten us. Ellen quietly and gracefully upholds her own ideals and those of the school, and thus inspires respect and admiration from all who know her.

"Charm strikes the sight but Merit wins the soul."

"Enthusiasm is that secret spirit which hovers over the production of genius."

Caroline MacMaster Savage

CAROLINE — ENTERED NURSERY

Home Economics Club President VIII; Assistant Editor Red and White VII; Athletic Association Vice-President VII; Sports Representative V, VIII; Dance Committee VI; Glee Club V-VIII; Hockey Squad V, VI, VIII, Varsity VII; Basketball Squad V, VI, Varsity VII; Lacrosse Squad V, Varsity VI-VIII.

Versatile—that's the word for Caroline. Possessor of the coveted white blazer . . . an "always" on Honor Roll . . . the Captain of those active Elves . . . and the originator of that contagious expression, "It's a real death." A dexterous and determined worker and a frequent visitor to Amherst, Caroline is the perfect combination of gaiety and seriousness.

Carolyn Stewart Schmeiser

LYN — ENTERED II MAIN

Council VIII; Class Secretary VI; Quid Nunc Representative IV, V; Glee Club V-VIII; Badminton Varsity V-VIII; Captain VIII; Tennis Varsity V-VIII.

Sparkling eyes, best figure in the class, a merry disposition, a social life that is assured, varied, and exciting—this can describe only one senior—Lyn. It is difficult to keep up with her, for she is usually away on another "big weekend." She is always willing to offer helpful bits of practical advice to her classmates. Buoyant and thoughtful, Lyn is unforgettable.

"Good humor only teaches charm to last."

"A loving heart is the truest wisdom."

Katherine Cording Scott

KATHIE — ENTERED VI MAIN

Social Service Chairman VIII; Social Service Representative VII; Glee Club VI-VIII; Lacrosse Squad VI.

Kathie has successfully combined her vivacity with her drive and ability to do hard work. With good humor she capably handled the drives sponsored by the Social Service Committee. Kathie's radiant smile and dancing dark eyes make her the personification of open friendliness and playful wit. We are sure that in any home Kathie will create an atmosphere of love and warmth.

Ann Alexander Shutt

ANN — ENTERED VI MAIN

Lateness Council Chairman VIII; Play Committee VIII; Red and White Representative VII.

Dignified yet gay, quiet yet fun-loving, poised yet enthusiastic—Ann, with her irresistible chuckle, her flair for playful mischief, and her obviously "prettiest smile," has given us many happy moments. She loves the out-of-doors and horses, and is an exceptionally fine equestrienne. At R.P.C.S. Ann has served us well in many phases of school life and will remain in our hearts as a happy and sincere friend.

"She that was ever fair and never proud had tongue at will and yet was never loud."

"Manner, not gold, is woman's best adornment."

Barbara Stafford

BARBIE — ENTERED III MAIN

Advertising Manager Quid Nunc VIII; Glee Club Secretary VIII; Honor Board V, VI; Play Cast VI, VII; Quid Nunc Representative VII; Glee Club VI-VIII; Semiquavers VII, VIII.

As our efficient ad-manager, Barbie calmly and good naturedly collected all the ads for the year book. She is also an interested musician, playing the piano and participating faithfully in the Semiquavers. An humanitarian as well, she won her cap this summer as a pinkie. Barbie is veritably a shining example of a poised "jeune fille" with a disciplined mind and a firm direction to her thoughts.

Johanna Wehr Struven

JONNIE — ENTERED KINDERGARTEN

Class Vice-President VI; Honor Board V; Play Committee Chairman VIII; Badminton Varsity V-VIII; Tennis Squad VI.

Jonnie is the quiet, open-hearted beauty of the senior class, with twinkling blue eyes and a good-natured, "Oh, come on you all, wait a minute." She has been a loyal supporter of the Badminton Team and the Contemporary Club. Jonnie—most ingenuous—most modest—and most innocent—possesses a natural sweetness and merry disposition which have made her well loved in our class.

"A cheerful temper joined with innocence."

"A careless song, with a little nonsense in it now and then."

Katherine Selden Tignor

KATHY, TIG — ENTERED I PRIMARY

Red and White Representative IV; Hockey Squad V-VII; Basketball Squad V-VII; Badminton Varsity VIII.

"Hey gang!!!" . . . and another morning begins with a gay note in the Senior Room. Kathy, her face shining with an effervescent zest for life, is always ready with another story of her adventures, but then is just as ready to listen and sympathize with our many, seemingly world-shattering problems. She has always been interested in sports and was a member of several squads and the Badminton Team. Most memorable about Kathy, though, are her quick changes of mood, which make her a "spicy senior."

Hope Nelson Tillman

HOPIE, HOPELESS — ENTERED NURSERY

American Field Service 1958; Honor Board VIII; Mayor's Youth Council VIII; Business Manager Red and White VII; Contemporary Club Secretary VI; Social Service Representative V, VI; Librarian VIII; Play Committee V-VII, Chairman VII; Glee Club V-VIII; Semiquavers VI-VIII.

Self-controlled and efficient, Hopie has distinguished herself by capably attending to the business details of our class. She has a true interest in cultural pursuits and a profound appreciation of good music. She was given the honor and pleasure of spending an eventful, worthwhile summer in Hamburg, Germany, through the American Field Service. This experience has helped to make Hopie one of the most perceptive members of the senior class.

"The secret of success is consistency of purpose."

"Warmed by her charm and charmed by her warmth."

Julia Ann Veltman

JULIE — ENTERED VII MAIN

School Government Secretary VIII; Associate Editor Quid Nunc VIII; Dramatic Club Secretary VII; Play Cast VII, VIII; Lunchroom Hostess VII; Glee Club VII, VIII.

As a student and as Secretary of the School Government, Julie has won our admiration; as a writer and actress, she has given us pleasure. Her refreshing wit dominates everything she does, and she combines an independent mind with a gracious manner, and a sense of the ridiculous with a seriousness of purpose. Julie is a faithful friend, convivial companion, willing worker, and spirited senior . . . a true Roland Parker.

Carolyn Marie Voigt

VOIGT — ENTERED IV PRIMARY

Chairman of Entertainments VIII; Contemporary Club Secretary VII; Play Cast VII; Council VI; Dance Committee VII, VIII; Glee Club V-VIII; Semiquavers VIII; Elf Representative VII; Cheerleader VIII; Badminton Varsity VII.

Voigt, with her spontaneous humor, has been the clever authoress and undisputable star of every skit we have ever given. Her originality, teamed with her energy and willingness to do hard work, made Voigt a memorable Chairman of Entertainments. Carolyn has enriched her life by a deep appreciation of art and music. We know that Voigt's overwhelming enthusiasm, sparked with her ambition and her drive, will prove invaluable to her in college and throughout life.

"All good things which exist are the fruits of originality."

Senior Will . . . . .

I, JUNE ADAMS, leave a book of "Marcy" stories for future "Debs" to find.

I, BETSY CELLURALE, leave my room in the King George to all future Navy drags.

I, WENDY CROSS, leave a can of wax to the next Roland Parker who likes to slide down banisters.

I, CASSIE DALEY, leave my ability to write left-handed to anyone with a cramped right hand.

I, HELENE FREDEKING, leave my position as goalie on the hockey team to anyone who likes to live in a cage.

I, GAIL GARDNER, leave my ability for mathematics and science to any poor misguided soul who needs them more than I do.

I, EVE HANDY, leave a tape recording of all my intricate ramblings in English class to Miss-Bohmfalk to figure out at her leisure.

I, DEBBIE HOUSTLE, leave a thousand dollar tow truck to anyone else with a fifty dollar car.

I. ZILLA JOHNSON, leave a book of my lectures on the birds and the bees to the next senior class.

I, NATALIE MEEKS, leave to my sister Greer a clock that is always running ten minutes fast.

I, BETTY NORRIS, leave my taxi service to my sister Babs in hopes that she can make more profit from it than I did.

I, JOAN PANETTI, leave the keys of melody to the Semiquavers.

I, CAROL PERROTT, leave all the things that I should have done at the beginning of the year.

I, MIMI RITTER, leave my recipe for lemon meringue pie to whom it may concern.

I, GISÈLE RUCHE, leave my heart to Roland Park.

I, ELLEN RUMFORD, leave the prestige of the Rumford dynasty to Betsy.

I, CAROLINE SAVAGE, leave my passion for vacations to Prissy Frey, Mary Bogue Mahony, and Cathy Turner.

I, LYN SCHMEISER, leave my indefinable "Snarf" to Peg and anyone else who thinks she understands or has need of it.

I, KATHIE SCOTT, leave an inexhaustible supply of patience to Miss Graham, in case she is ever again confronted by a frustrated chemist like me.

I, ANN SHUTT, leave my long sweaters to next year's five-foot seniors.

I, BARBIE STAFFORD, leave my copy of How to Win Friends and Influence People to next year's Quid Nunc Ad Manager.

I, JONNIE STRUVEN, leave to my sister, Annie, the twentieth position on the badminton ladder.

I, KATHY TIGNOR, leave my front porch as a waiting station on rainy days to all straight-haired Roland Parkers.

I, HOPE TILLMAN, leave a library of foreign dictionaries to future A.F.S.-ers.

I, JULIE VELTMAN, leave a covered wagon full of Beard and Brown to the next group of Miss Faissler's "Pioneers."

I, CAROLYN VOIGT, leave my raccoon coat and my theories on "Bohemianism" to anyone who is cold and intellectual.

Office Staff

"May I please have a sign-out sheet for the Seventh Main?"—"Will you mimeograph these songs for us?" —"Could I please have the keys to the pound?" These and many other "'may I's" reach the ears of Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Foster, and the rest of the Office Staff every day. What would we do without their quiet efficiency and their willingness to help us in every possible way? To them, we express our sincere thanks.

Lunchroom Hostess

This year Wendy Cross, the Chief Lunch Room Hostess, aided by Mrs. Ruth, and Sally Emery, De Ette Wilkinson, and Georgie Hampshire as class representatives, has successfully kept the noise in the lunchroom down and the appearance of the room up. The Hostesses also graciously served at the teas after our games under the supervision of Wendy and Mrs. Ruth. We are grateful to them for a very pleasant year.

Seated: Mrs. Foster; Mrs. Webb. Standing: Mrs. Townsend; Mrs. Hatch; Mrs. Fulton; Mrs. Hensen.

Lateness Council

"I couldn't help being late!"—"My alarm clock didn't go off!"—"We had a flat tire." Chairman of the Lateness Council, Ann Shutt, and Mrs. Wilson, the faculty sponsor, and Louise Farley, Corky Ives, and Pat Turner, class representatives, patiently listened to numerous excuses from tardy Roland Parkers.

These girls deserve our appreciation for making sure that we "almost always" arrived at school on time.

STUDY HALL COMMITTEE

The new school year began with the formation of a much-needed addition to the School Government, a Study Hall Committee. This committee is organized in a pyramid fashion, with the vice-president of the School Government presiding over the group which is composed of six elected representatives from the Upper Main. The committee in turn appoints forty-five proctors, whose duties include taking attendance, supplying information, and maintaining an atmosphere conducive to studying.

As a result of the tireless efforts of Florrie Roy and Miss Feeley, this newly formed organization was moulded into an effective branch of the School Government. The committee assisted in the clarification and revision of basic Study Hall rules and procedures, and sponsored a poster contest to provide the Study Hall with clever reminders of these innovations.

The group has made great strides toward the ultimate aim of the Study Hall Committee—to make each girl responsible to herself for maintaining honorably and using wisely study halls which are pleasant and profitable.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The first big project of the fall season was the very successful production of Pride and Prejudice. After the excitement of the play died down, the Dramatic Club turned to other phases of the theater. Club periods were devoted to learning more about scenery, costuming, and make-up. The club members also worked on pantomimes and the Common Room often rang with laughter during the presentation of the "Silent skits." A tape recorder, along with extracts from plays, also provided many amusing moments for the club. Mrs. Maurice Starky, Jr. gave an informative lecture on drama in the college curriculum.

The interest of the members of the Dramatic Club has made the organization a very profitable and popular one.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Many Roland Parkers worked for weeks to give us enjoyable performances of Pride and Prejudice on the fourteenth and fifteenth of November. The unique posters, which enticed such a large audience on both nights, were the contribution of the Art Club, while Public Relations were handled by the Contemporary Club. The beautifully decorated eighteenth century drawing room was the masterpiece of the Stage Technician, Mr. Joseph Cushing. Cassie Daley and her committee, with the assistance of Miss Feeley, designed the colorful flats and furnishings, and the very effective lighting was provided by Donnie Smith and her stage crew. Ann Vollmer, with the help of Miss Love and Miss Kelley, rounded up all the incidentals that are so necessary for the play, but sometimes so hard to find. The cast was decked out by Gail Gardner, Mrs. T. Bradford, and the rest of the busy costume committee, and made up by Betsy Cellurale and her committee with the aid of Mme. Barrabini. Against this realistic background the actresses, after the patient coaching of Miss Bohmfalk and Dramatic Club President Zilla Anne Johnson, presented a highly delightful play.

ART CLUB

This year the Art Club, under the direction of Miss Waters and President Susan Rose, developed a sense of unity and purpose. The members, in addition to their independent artistic endeavors, also participated in many school activities, using their time and talent to make posters for varsity games, the school play, and the Christmas Fair. The selection of club pins is only one of the indications of the new pride within the Art Club.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association at Roland Park is one of the most important and active organizations in the school. Every girl in the Upper Main is a member of the A.A. and plays a significant role not only in producing successful teams but also in creating spirit within the school.

Varsity sports are perhaps the most essential aspect of the A.A. We are justly proud of the cooperation and sportsmanship which characterize our varsity teams. Varsity and Squad members are given recognition at Class Day when the A.A. awards Varsity pins and Squad certificates. The white blazer is also awarded to those players who have earned a place on the hockey and basketball varsities in addition to playing one year of lacrosse or two years of tennis or badminton.

Roland Parkers began to appreciate fully the agility and the tireless work of these varsity players when every Upper Mainer was drilled and then tested on the basic skills which the varsity players perfect. The tests for hockey and basketball techniques were successful in determining accurate gym marks and, even more important, in raising the caliber of athletics for the whole school.

HOCKEY

Autumn brought brisk, invigorating weather and the start of a spirited hockey season. Under Miss Murray's persevering coaching, the squad proved itself by ending the season with a winning record, the best in years.

The varsity started the season in full gear by defeating Sanford, Notre Dame, and Park. After tieing Friends and Oldfields, Roland Park lost to Garrison Forest, our only defeat of the season. Teamwork and the will to win gave the varsity its first victory over St. Timothy's in many years. The traditional rival game between Roland Park and Bryn Mawr was fought well and hard but ended in a one to one tie.

The junior varsity's season was undefeated: they overcame Park, Friends, Notre Dame, Bryn Mawr, and tied with St. Timothy's. Our games were won with team spirit, sportsmanship, and the knowledge of the school's support.

BADMINTON

Roland Park finished the 1958 badminton season with a winning record, the first in several years. Under the leadership of Captain Lyn Schmeiser and the guiding hand of Miss Peddle, the Roland Parkers finished with a three win, two loss record.

The varsity's first achievement was an impressive ten to one victory over Friends. Later in the season R.P.C.S. again tramped over Friends, this time by a nine to two score. Notre Dame of Maryland handed the varsity its only two defeats. Roland Park lost to Notre Dame by the close scores of seven to four, and six to five. After a tight and exciting match R.P.C.S. emerged victorious over Garrison Forest with a four to three final score.

Roland Park's Badminton varsity played with a zestful spirit, against skillful and respected opponents.

SOCIAL SERVICE

The Social Service was led this year by Kathie Scott, and it was through our charity representatives that we contributed our quota to the United Fund Appeal and the March of Dimes. Another important activity of this committee was the sale of scrip tickets which was sponsored during the four weeks prior to the Christmas Fair.

FAIR

The festivities of the Christmas Fair commenced on the sixth of December with the lighting of the huge Christmas tree which stood in the middle of the gayly decorated and extremely crowded gym. The greatest attraction in the always-popular Game Room was the Duck Pin booth sponsored by the Seventh Main for their Foreign Student Fund. The Fair was undeniably a "Big Success" as a result of the hard work of the Women's Committee; the Fair Co-Chairmen, Mrs. James T. Vernay, Jr. and Mrs. George A. Robinson; and the Student Representative, Carolyn Voigt. A part of the proceeds of the Fair will be used for the stylish and comfortable furniture in our new Common Room.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

A mood of solemnity was created as the gym became hushed and the first strains of Hosanna were heard. The program included the Glee Club's singing of Sheep May Safely Graze accompanied by flutists Sharon Davis and Anne Conley, and Dors Ma Colombe sung by the student body in memory of Katherine A. Talbot. The beauty of the pageant was heightened by the expressive Dormi Jesu composed by Joan Panetti, President of the Glee Club. The lower Main sang two lovely French carols and presented three exquisite tableaux to accompany the reading of the Christmas story. A true spirit of holiness and humility had been captured as the assembly closed with the traditional recessional hymn, On This Day.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE CLUB

"As a Christian Service Club we are a very special kind of club—more than a type of interdenominational collegiate, all-girl, young peoples. Our purpose is to discover together the true meaning of Christian living and service and to come to a more complete understanding of the challenge we have accepted as such a club. Our programs and activities are to be centered around the themes of Christian service and Christian living, in terms of what we, as Christian young people, can give and be in our homes, country, and world."

First row: B. Reed; J. Durkee; K. Tignor; L. Schmeiser; A. Adams; J. Spoerer; A. Streett; J. Tinley; S. Brewington; A. Groom; Betty Norris; C. Dix. Second row: L. Engel; Babs Norris; C. Jones; Betsey Norris; Miss Hawxhurst; B. Cellurale, President; J. Harrison; N. O'Donovan; B. Randall; F. Harrington. Third row: S. Jones; G. Hampshire; E. Tongue; L. Huey; K. Naylor; E. Clark; M. Clark; K. Scott; E. Rumford; A. Stahl; M. B. Mahoney; G. Gathmann; C. Card; C. Clark; B. Hull; B. Robinson; M. Schmick. Absent: P. Painter; K. Purvis.

With the coming of the Christmas season, the creed of the Christian Service Club assumed a special significance. Father George Taylor, Rector of Saint David's Episcopal Church, led the club in a beautiful Christmas service. On the Saturday before Christmas, a large group of the club's members sang carols at Union Memorial Hospital. In the same spirit of "Christian service in terms of what we can give and be" the Christian Service Club members, earlier in the year, gave a Thanksgiving turkey, canned goods, clothes, and an afghan to a needy Baltimore family.

The club, under the guidance of Miss Hawxhurst and President Betsy Cellurale, worked not only toward true charity of the heart and hand, but also tolerance of the mind. One of the essential requirements of Christian living is the practicing of understanding, Dr. Donald Kerr, Rector of the Roland Park Presbyterian Church, pointed out to the club. To gain such an understanding of various religious doctrines, the Christian Service Club sponsored a program on "The Major Religions of the World." From addresses, movies, and student reports, the club members gained a general knowledge of the beliefs and practices of Mohammedanism, B'Hai, Hinduism, and several Christian denominations including Roman Catholicism, Lutheranism, and Unitarianism.

HONOR BOARD

As the new year began, the Honor Board, working as guide and advisor to the student body, renewed its efforts to maintain Roland Park's high standards of conduct. With the help of School Government President Ellen Rumford and a small Honor System Commitee, the Honor Board continued to prepare the Upper Main to assume the responsibilities of a student government based on personal honor.

The Honor Board members, who are class presidents, one member from each section of a class, and the officers of the School Government, are chosen for their qualities of tact and responsibility. Aiding the student representatives in their decisions and duties are elected faculty members and Miss Healy.

This year the Fellowship Representatives also attended the Honor Board meetings. From reports submitted to the Honor Board from the teachers and from careful observation of the progression of each class, this committee was able to make a fair selection for the Fellowship Award which is conferred upon that class "which by its spirit of unselfish courtesy, friendliness, and appreciation of fair play has done the most to carry on the highest tradition of the School."

CONTEMPORARY CLUB

Contemporary Club meetings, under the direction of Miss Faissler and the enthusiastic leadership of President Polly Starratt, were always informative and enjoyable. At the annual Roland Park-Gilman debate sponsored by the club, Roland Parkers Polly Starratt, Betty Stevenson, and Louise Farley, with Mary Gardner Dowell serving as alternate, argued the affirmative of the statement "Participation in varsity sports in independent high schools should be governed by academic standards."

Throughout the year, the club members covered other topics of both national and international importance. Integration and the Right to Work laws are a few of the current national issues which were discussed. On the international level, a panel of delegates to the United Nations Day discussed the "economic war." Miss Emerson Lamb, head of the French Department, recounted the highlights of her recent trip to Europe, and Ann Talbot spoke to the club about the out-of-the-way places of Europe. Mrs. Van Eyk Grobler gave the club members a valuable insight into the problems facing South Africans. The Reverend Charles E. Danner showed slides of England, and Dr. Alfred B. Starratt related to the club his experiences in China at the time of the downfall of the Nationalist government.

SPIRIT

Spirit is an essential element of our school life, for every Roland Parker helps to create the enthusiasm and interest which develop strong school spirit. Many Upper Mainers make posters for the varsity games, and each week the A.A. selects a winner based on originality and neatness. At the close of both the hockey and basketball seasons, the best of that season's posters is given a prize. The teams are also supported through pep rallies staged before home varsity games. The most important way, however, that a Roland Parker shows her pride and loyalty for the teams is by attendance at the games.

A Pep Rally

At the end of the fall and winter sports seasons, the Athletic Association presents a cup to the class which has been outstanding in promoting spirit within the school. This cup, one of the most cherished awards at Roland Park, is given to the girl in that class who has most wholeheartedly and faithfully supported school athletic activities.

BASKETBALL

Neither snow, nor sleet, nor any of winter's bad roads could stop the Roland Park basketball varsity. Our only winter varsity, basketball, was led by Captain Mary Bogue Mahony and Coach Miss Murray to a good season.

The first game of the season, played with Park in our own gym, was an overwhelming victory for the home team, with a score of 60 to 16. Much encouraged by our success, we defeated Belair by two points in a hard fought game. The Garrison Forest basketball contest was an exciting but heartbreaking game, as R.P.C.S. lost by one point. Roland Park, after being defeated by both St. Timothy's and Kenwood, rallied and gained narrow victories over Oldfields and Friends. In the Roland Park, Bryn Mawr rival game, R.P.C.S. fought valiantly, but lost by one point in overtime.

The Junior varsity defeated Park and Friends, while losing to Belair, St. Timothy's, and Bryn Mawr.

Whether we won or lost, our varsity exhibited skill and sportsmanship.

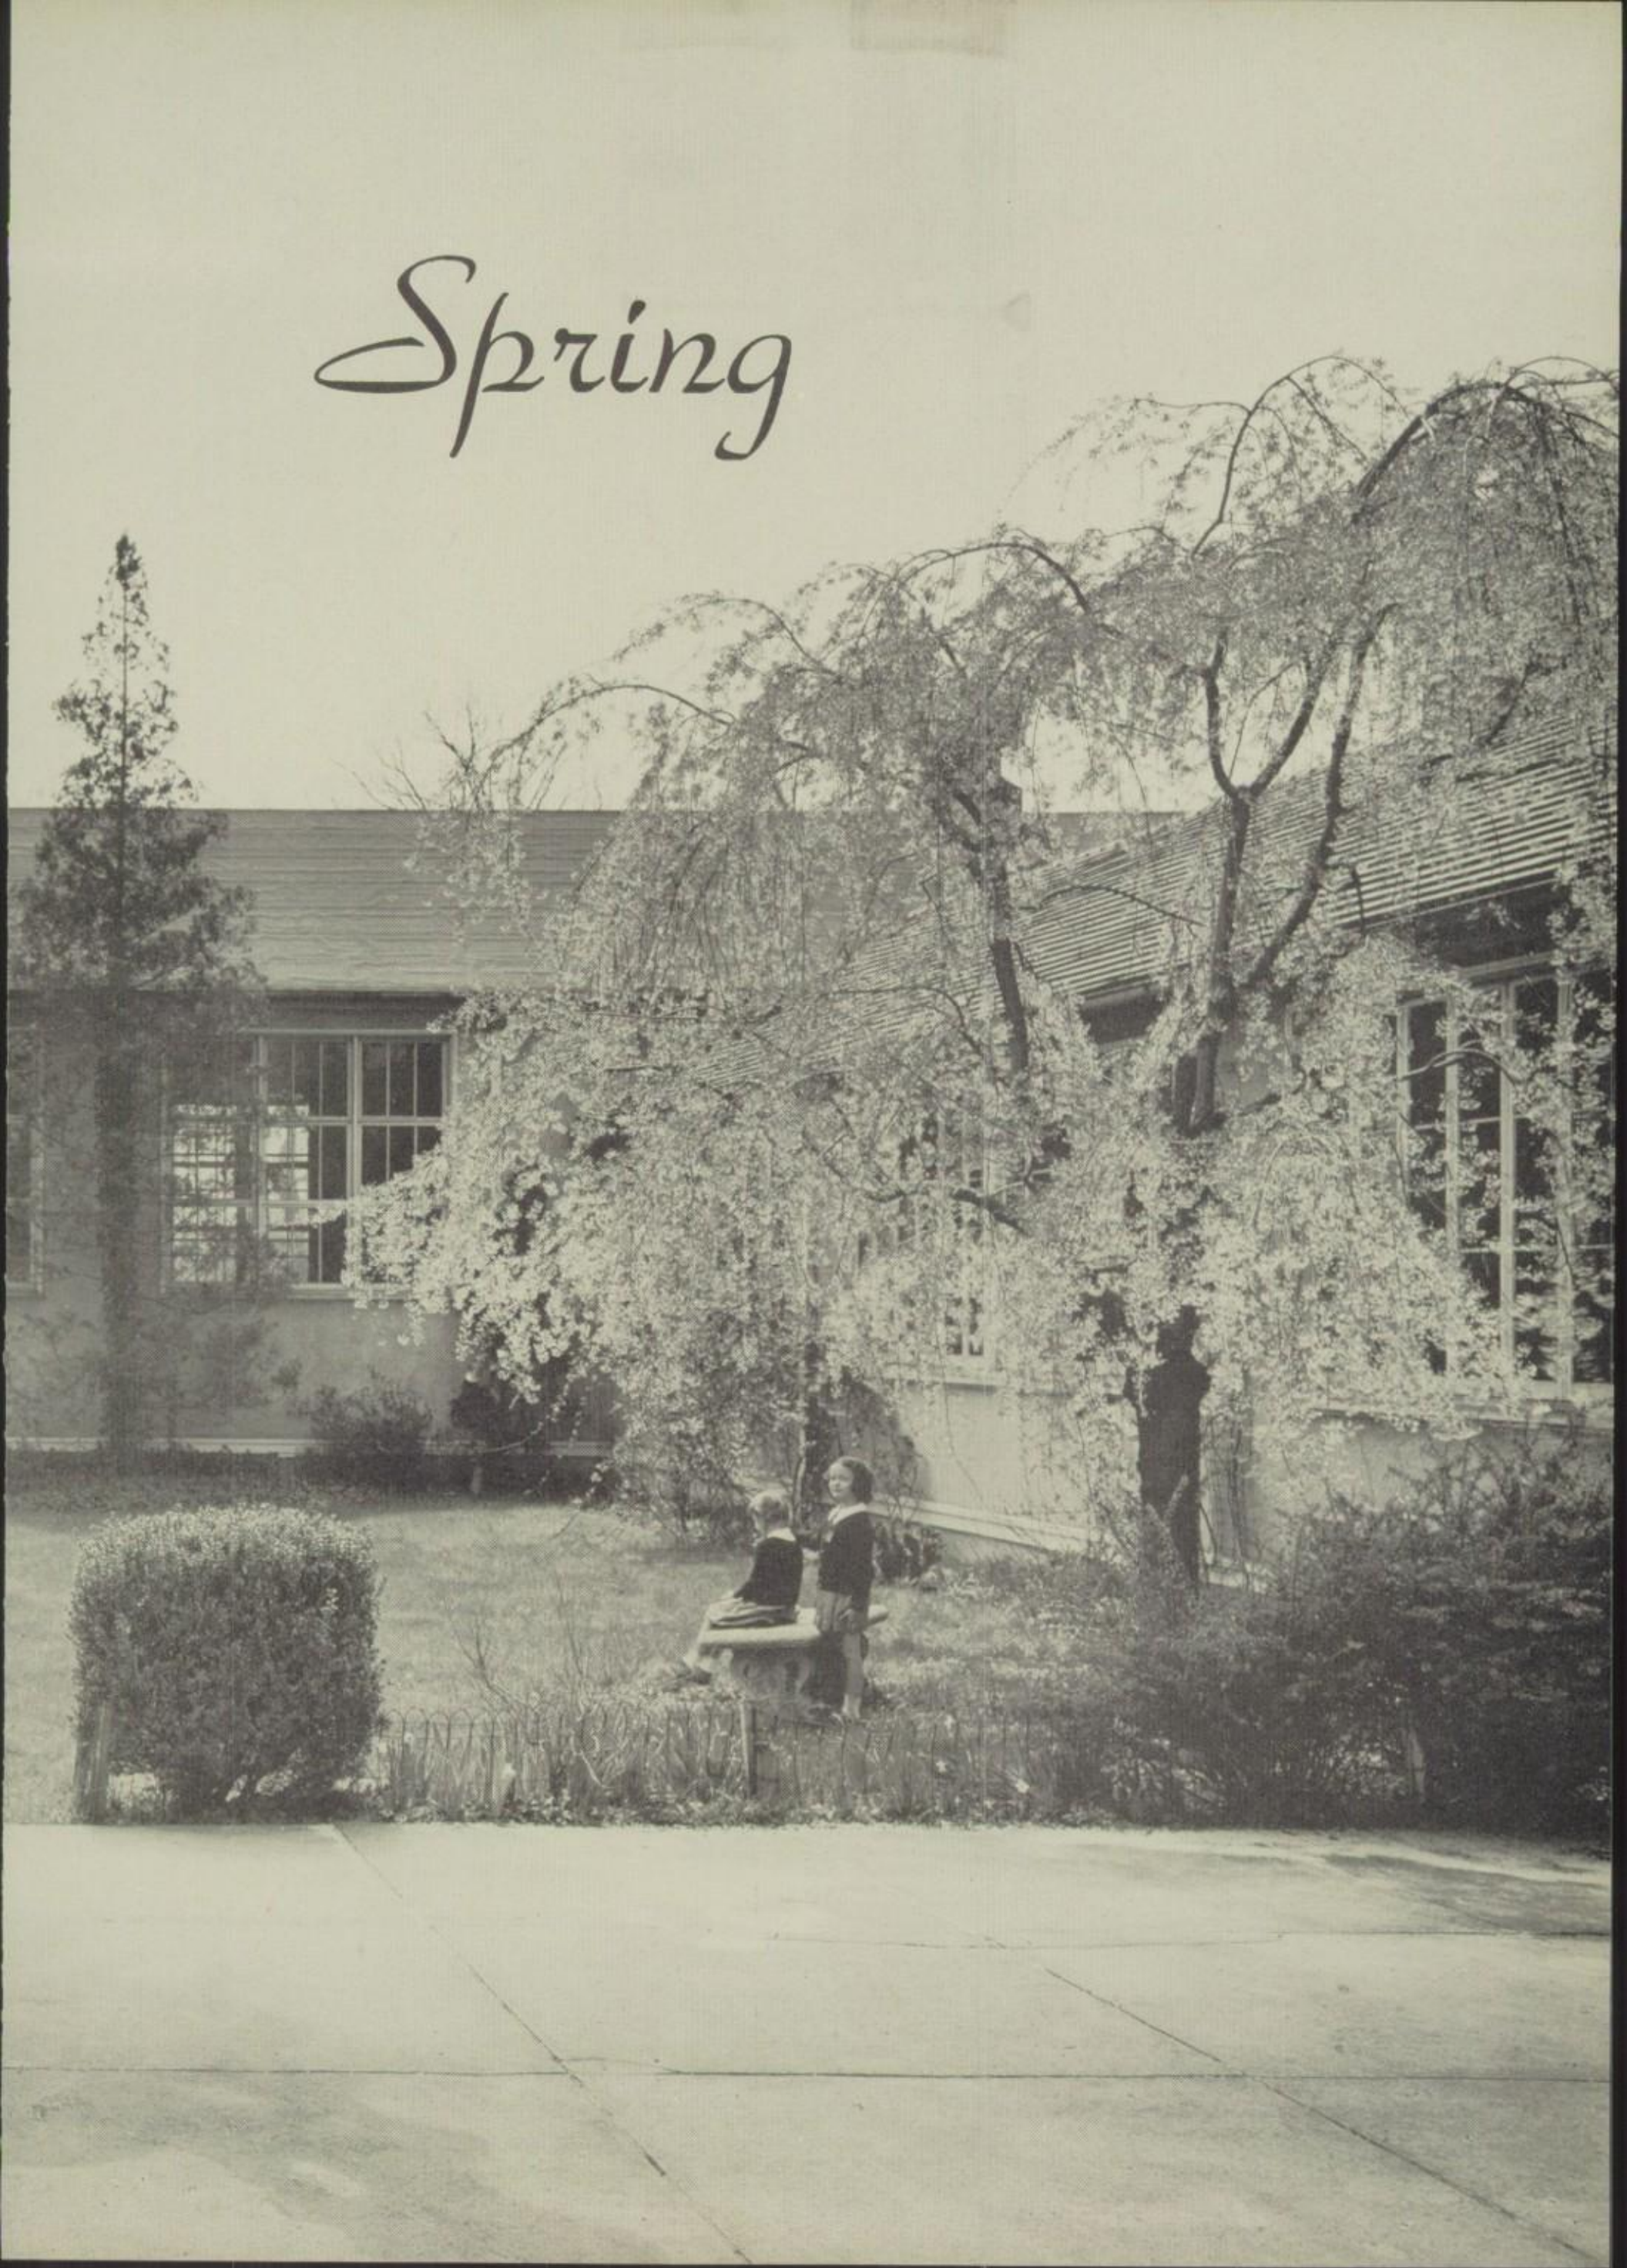
Spring



GLEE CLUB

When the first signs of spring appear we can see the Glee Club busily preparing for its heavy concert schedule. The talented and congenial director, Mrs. Bradford, and Mrs. Maevers, the accompanist, are mainstays of the club.

The concert program usually consisted of one or two classical pieces, often sung in Latin, and then several lighter selections. The Glee Club gave its annual concert with Gilman, and the two clubs also performed a program of American music at Fort McHenry. The zenith of the eventful year was the concert with Haverford College. The program included Mozart's Te Deum and a mass by Haydn. The four solos in the mass were beautifully sung by Joan Panetti, Barbie Stafford, Anne Carter, and Sandy Kamtman.

The Glee Club had a very exciting and rewarding year.

SEMIQUAVERS

Apart from the Glee Club are the Semiquavers, a club composed of sixteen Roland Parkers particularly gifted and interested in music. On several occasions, this group has performed for Saint Mary's Episcopal Church and Keswick Home. The Semiquavers contributed a special section to each Glee Club concert. Among their selections at the Christmas Pageant were Hodie Christus, Wohlauf, Wohlauf and three Old English carols, and at the Gilman concert, Give Ear O Lord, My Bonnie Lass, and selections from American folk music.

Every Wednesday morning the Semiquavers sang a hymn to the Upper Main, an appreciated innovation which greatly augmented the beauty and solemnity of opening prayers. The success of both the Semiquavers and the Glee Club was, to a great extent, due to the unfailing devotion of their president, Joan Panetti.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

A long-felt need in school activities was met this year when a Home Economics Club was organized under the capable supervision of Miss Kelley and President Caroline Savage.

For their first year's work, the sixteen members concentrated on elementary sewing—learning the basic principles of altering, pinning, cutting, and stitching. By spring everyone had made a skirt and a blouse. It is hoped that the members of this young organization will be able to improve their skills and enjoy being able to make their own clothes.

COUNCIL

As the school year drew to a close, the Council completed one of its most significant duties, the submission to the Faculty and the Upper Main student body of a preliminary slate for the elections of school officers. As the Council represents all Upper Main faculty, classes, organizations, clubs, and publications, it is the organ of the School Government best qualified to recommend candidates to offices for the following year. The Council also plays a large role in planning the New Girls Party, the Fair, and the school dance.

Additional credit must be given the Council for the skillful and enthusiastic way in which it worked to increase school spirit, to maintain mutual understanding between teachers and students, and to uphold the high standards of Roland Park.

QUID NUNC STAFF

We of the Quid Nunc Staff, on behalf of the Senior Class, would like to express our gratitude to Roland Park for giving us the memories which have inspired the writing of this yearbook and will keep the spirit of R.P.C.S. always alive to us. With pleasure we retrace the fun of Senior Day and the parties given us by the V's, VI's, and VII's, with satisfaction we recall the finishing of the New Common Room, with pride we recollect the 50th Anniversary Celebration, and with inspiration we remember the first assembly in tribute to Mme. Talbot.

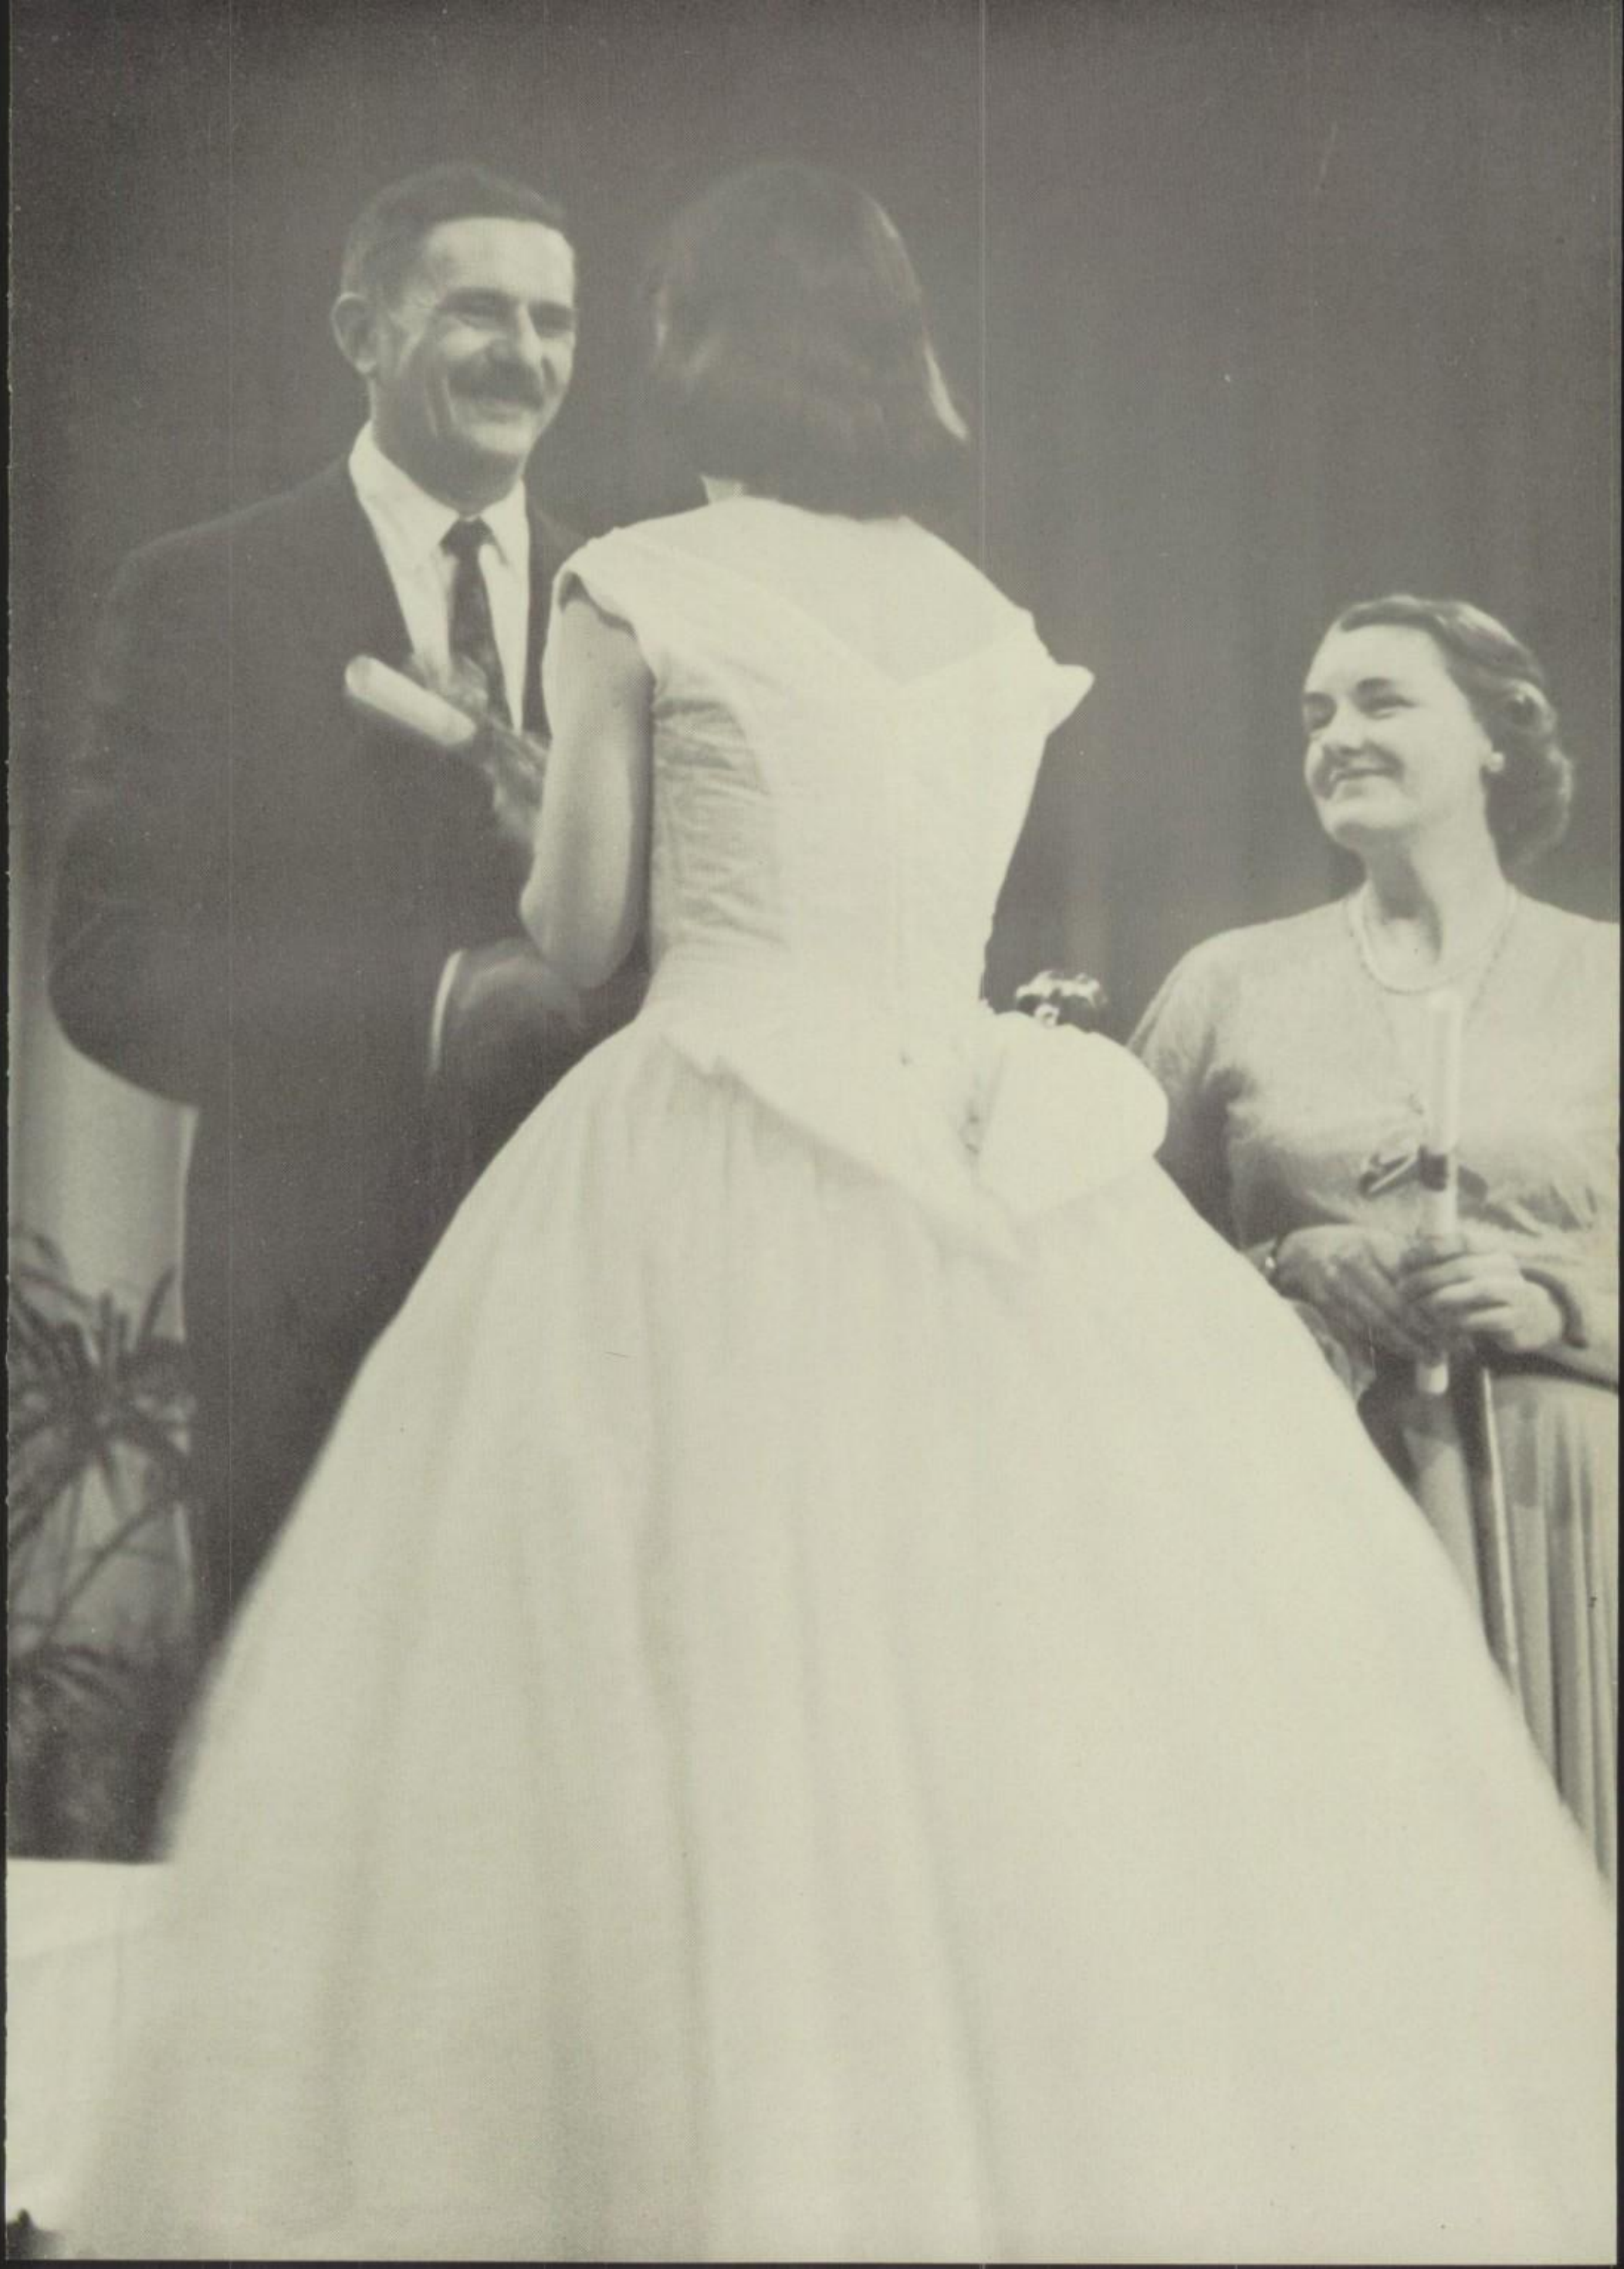
Because of the advice and help given us by Miss Bohmfalk, our class teacher and Quid Nunc advisor, the spirited and expert instruction of all of our teachers, and the loving guidance of Miss Healy, our headmistress, we feel better able to face the many new challenges which lie ahead.

To the school which has been so significant in shaping our future, we give this yearbook.

The Staff

Our school has meant much to us through all these years,
And now we will sing in its praise;
It has given us courage and strengthened us too,
And taught us to live through the days.

The Roland Park School has a place in our hearts,
And its image will ne'er fade away,
We love it, we honour and cherish it too,
And all of its precepts obey.



We entered the "Upper Main" this year,
And as their time to leave grows near,
The hour has come for us to tell
Of the "big sisters" we love so well.

In sports and glee club and the such,
You all excell and have so much
Of all the things that we admire
And hope someday we can acquire.

Though buried in our books all day,
We still have found the time to say:
"Good luck for all the years to come,
And many thanks for all you've done!"

V Main

History, Mathematics, and Latin and such,
A schedule which often you've thought was too much.
Activities, offices, clubs, and school games—
For being good leaders to fame you have claims.

The school's kept you busy throughout the past year,
And with graduation the climax is near.
The time's come to leave us but please don't forget
The struggling Sixth Mainers—We'll graduate yet!

VI Main

To say that we're poetic
Would really be pathetic.
To say that we could rhyme
Would be an awful crime.

But still we're here to say
Good luck in every way.
We sure do think you're fine—
The Class of Fifty-Nine.

Among our greatest friends are the discriminating families who will not accept milk in inferior containers . . . they insist on having their milk in GLASS bottles.

Sparkling GLASS enables them to SEE that they are receiving full measure and the quantity on hand at any time. GLASS assures freedom from contaminating substances and does not become soft and leak. GLASS bottles are SO much easier to handle.
